Dear Colleges,

Special Invitation to Submit to the Journal of the African Academy of Sciences

You are receiving this special invitation because of your commitment to the promotion of academic excellence in Africa. The AAS through its GC decided to re-launch its journal under a new name – Journal of the African Academy of Sciences (JAAS).

We naturally turn to all of you who have been associated with AAS in your various capacities to help us launch the journal by submitting some of your excellent research work for publication in the inaugural volume of JCAS. Your article may be a review, an original research report, or a commentary. You are also encouraged to solicit articles from your associates and colleagues.

Publication charges will be waived for all articles submitted before April 15, 2016.

Further details on instructions to authors as indicated can be obtained from www.aasciences.ac.ke and in the attached document.
